WELCOME TO THE LOST OUTPOST

What was once a remote expedition base of the Legendary Expedition Co.
has become something far more… contested.
After years lost to the world, the Outpost was rediscovered last season—
its radio signals finally reaching beyond the island.
But those transmissions did not go unanswered.
This summer, new forces have arrived.
The Black Tide now claims the Outpost as their own,
reshaping it into a lawless port at the edge of the unknown.

Yet not all has been lost.

As you explore, you may begin to notice remnants of the expedition…
signs that someone—or something—still lingers just beyond sight.
So take your time. Look closer.
Not everything here is meant to be found easily.

RECOVERED TRANSMISSION
CAPTAIN H.R. JOHNSON

If this message has reached you… then the Outpost has already fallen.
The Black Tide came for the signal.
We were not prepared for what followed.
Some of us were taken. Others did not make it off the grounds.
I am still here.
Watching… Waiting…
There are places within the Outpost
they have not yet claimed… places they do not understand.
If you have the right piece… and you know where to place it…
you may find that not everything here is as silent as it seems.

Stay alert. – Captain H.R. Johnson
